Dear Mr. Laya:

A NIST recognized accreditor of product certifiers, ANSI, forwarded the name of your organization as a qualified Telecommunication Certification Body (TCB) for compliance with ISO/IEC Guide 65 and FCC requirements under its TCB program. ANSI also forwarded the specific scopes of accreditation to NIST for which your organization was qualified.

Upon NIST recommendation, FCC on June 2, 2000 designated your organization for the specific scopes listed in its Public Notice DA 00 1223. Your Login and Password information is enclosed that you will need to enter applicant approved product information into the FCC database. Please keep this information in a secure place so that only authorized personnel has access to it. For instructions how to use this information please refer to TCB Internet System User Manual handed out at database training session on May 3, 2000 at FCC Laboratory in Columbia, Maryland.

We congratulate you on being designated as a TCB under the FCC program.

Sincerely,

Jogindar S Dhillon
